

The Mail Carrier Cats of Liège

In 1879
in Liège, Belgium
the city fathers
actually tried to train 37 cats to deliver mail
to the outlying villages.
What were they thinking!

Gretchen Lamont

Pictures by Hugh Harrison

CATS GO POSTAL!

Gretchen Lamont
954 Birch Creek Drive
Wilmington NC 28403

In 1879 in Liège, Belgium, there actually was a plan to train 37 cats to deliver mail to the town's outlying villages. This make-believe story imagines what might have happened so long ago. It's a merry tale for young readers and listeners, and for feline fans of any age. There's a glossary of simple French words (French is the language of Liège), a yummy cookie recipe and lots of gee-whiz lore.

Story by Gretchen Lamont • Drawings by Hugh Harrison
Design by Oscar Gonzalez

THE MAIL-CARRIER CATS

is now available online

@www.iuniverse.com/bookstore

or

1-800-AUTHORS

Also available through Barnes & Noble bookstores.

$8.95 • Illustrated • 54 pages
ISBN 978-0-595-462524-4